COVID-19 Flexibility Continuations Until 4/20/2021

This memo sets out interim guidance from the Department of Medical Assistance Services (DMAS) to extend federal and state authorities that allow regulatory flexibilities to providers during the public health emergency presented by the COVID-19 (novel coronavirus). This memo is an update on certain flexibilities and as more information is received on the federal and state public health emergencies, DMAS will provide additional updates through future memos.

Providers are encouraged to frequently access the DMAS website to check the central COVID-19 response page for both frequently asked questions (FAQs) and guidance regarding these flexibilities, as well as ongoing flexibilities for behavioral health and addiction recovery treatment services, at <http://www.dmas.virginia.gov/#/emergencywaiver>. For additional questions about this memo or other COVID-19 related issues, the agency has created a centralized point of access for submission at <http://dmas.virginia.gov/contactforms/#/general>.

Questions may also be submitted to COVID-19@dmas.virginia.gov.

Background on Federal and State Authorities

Certain flexibilities are permitted to be in effect only during the federal public health emergency.

On January 7 2021, the federal public health emergency was extended for 90 days to April 20, 2021. At the state level, Virginia Executive Orders (EO) 51 and 58 provide corresponding policy flexibilities associated with the state public health emergency declaration. The Virginia Executive Orders currently do not have an expiration date.

Most flexibilities depend on both state and federal authorities. DMAS is required to unwind the flexibilities obtained when either the federal or the state emergency declarations expire. Only flexibilities extended by the federal public health emergency are contained in the October 22, 2020 memo. Normal DMAS policies and procedures are in effect for any flexibilities not discussed in the October 22, 2020 memo.
